Rainbow Tick accreditation

Quality Innovation Performance Limited (QIP) is a not-for-profit certification and accreditation organisation dedicated to supporting health and community services to manage safety, risk and quality through the provision of accreditation, certification and quality assurance services.

Why become accredited to be LGBTIQ-inclusive

Lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans and gender diverse, intersex, and queer identities (LGBTIQ) people have the same right to access services as anyone else. But not all service providers understand or respond well to the needs of the community.

For some LGBTIQ people, the experience of exclusion and discrimination can contribute directly to poorer health and well-being, particularly mental health.

The Rainbow Tick

The Rainbow Tick is a national accreditation program for organisations that are committed to safe and inclusive practice, and service delivery for LGBTIQ people.

Organisations wishing to receive a Rainbow Tick are required to undergo accreditation against the Rainbow Tick Standards, owned and developed by Rainbow Health Australia.

The Rainbow Tick Accreditation Program

The Rainbow Tick Accreditation Program supports organisations to understand and implement LGBTIQ safe and inclusive service delivery and provides national recognition for those that meet the Rainbow Tick Standards.

The Rainbow Tick Accreditation Program is a voluntary program and aims to assist organisations to move from friendly to inclusive. This is while reassuring LGBTIQ consumers and staff that an organisation is aware of, is responsive to and is understanding of their needs.

Rainbow Tick Standards

Rainbow Tick consists of six standards which organisations can be independently assessed and formally accredited against to demonstrate their commitment to LGBTIQ inclusive practice and service delivery.

They are currently in their third edition and are supported by the Rainbow Tick guide to LGBTIQ inclusive practice.

Rainbow Tick provides a benchmark for LGBTIQ-inclusive practice throughout Australia.

It provides assurance to LGBTIQ consumers that an organisation will be responsive to their needs in a safe and inclusive environment.
